FOREWORD

Dear Veteran,

1. It gives me great pleasure in bringing out this Handbook for the veterans of Uttar Bharat Area.
2. The recent years have been eventful for Veterans of our country. OROP has added to financial stability. The world around us continues to get more and more transparent in the ever-evolving network centric milieu. Situational awareness holds the key for us to leverage the fruits of information technology. Regular information sharing through the Army channels, followed by lateral dissemination among the veteran community can become an effective modus operandi in achieving the same. This handbook is a start point in this direction.
3. Efforts have been made to publish important facets of Veterans welfare including certain good practices proposed formats, to act as a guide for the Veteran officers and their NOKs. This effort being a start point, we welcome inputs from the Veterans fraternity toward further improving the same in future.
4. This publication is aimed at facilitating the Veterans in Uttar Bharat Area AoR to remain in touch with latest policies and guidelines so as to give a fillip to the overall awareness level of the Veterans in terms of entitlements, facilities and good practices in the fd of Veterans welfare.
5. I acknowledge the efforts of all Rks who helped in compiling this publication.
6. Wishing you continued connectivity and good heath.

DEFINITIONS

1. Ex-servicemen (ESM)

1.1 An ESM is a person who has served in any rank in the Indian Armed Forces, including the Army, Navy, and Air Force.

1.2 They are individuals who have been retired, relieved, or discharged from service.

1.3 The term "Ex-Servicemen" is used to recognize and provide benefits and opportunities to those who have served in the armed forces.

2. Dependents

2.1. Spouse. The ESM's current spouse is usually considered a dependent.

2.2. Children. Legitimate, step, and legally adopted children of the ESM are considered dependents, especially if they are unmarried and below a certain age (often 25).

2.3. Dependent Parents. Parents of the ESM may be considered dependents if they reside with the ESM and their combined income from all sources does not exceed a certain limit (currently Rs. 9000/- per month, excluding dearness allowance, according to ECHS guidelines).

2.4 War Widows/Dependent Parents of Deceased Personnel. In some cases, the widows and dependent parents of defense personnel who died in war or while on duty are also considered dependents and eligible for benefits.

3. Veer Nari. The widow of an armed forces member who has laid down his life for the nation, whether in war or in a military operation is termed a "Veer Nari".

4. Widow. A woman whose husband has died and who has not married again.

5. Physical casualty. A "Physical Casualty" refers to a person who has been injured or killed due to an accident, war, or other destructive event. It's a general term encompassing both fatalities and non-fatal injuries, with the word "Casualty" often used to describe multiple deaths and injuries.

6. Battle Casualty. A "Battle Casualty" in the context of defence personnel refers to any casualty (death, injury, or disappearance) sustained as a direct result of hostile action or combat. This includes situations where personnel are killed or wounded in combat, or die from wounds or injuries sustained during such action. The term also encompasses missing personnel presumed to have been lost due to enemy action.

6.1. Categories. Battle casualties can include those killed in action, those who die from wounds or injuries sustained in battle (other than self-inflicted), those who are wounded or injured in battle (other than self-inflicted), and those who are missing and presumed to have been lost due to enemy action.

6.2. Distinction from Non-Battle Casualties. It's crucial to distinguish between battle casualties and non-battle casualties. Non-battle casualties include those who die or are injured due to illness, accident, or non-combat-related injuries.

DEFINITIONS

Veterans

7. A defence veteran, generally referred to as a military veteran, is a person who has served in the armed forces (including the military, navy, air force, or space service) and has been discharged or released under conditions other than dishonorable.

7.1. The five types of veterans are as under:-

7.1.1. Wartime Veterans

7.1.2. Peacetime Veterans

7.1.3. Combat or war Veterans

7.1.4. Service Veterans

7.1.5. Disabled Veterans.

TYPE OF PENSION

1. Ordinary Family Pension (OFP). Ordinary Family Pension is normally paid to the widow for all cases of death after retirement and for those cases of death while in service where the death is neither attributable to nor aggravated by service (NANA). It is paid @ 30% of last reckonable emoluments (Band Pay, Grade Pay, MSP & NPA for medical officers) + dearness relief (DR). OFP will stop on remarriage except for widows who are issues less. For widows with children, it will pass on to her eligible children as per their seniority.

1.1. Enhanced Ordinary Family Pension (EOFP). This pension is basically an ordinary family pension which has been enhanced for a limited period as a benevolent measure by the Govt for cases of death while in service and for an early death after retirement.

1.2. Enhanced ordinary family pension is paid @ 50% of last reckonable emoluments + DR. It is paid for 10 years to the widow for death in service. There is no upper age limit. For death after retirement, it is paid for 7 years after death or up to 67 years of age of deceased officer (65 years for pre-13 May 1998 retirees). For a widow to be eligible for enhanced ordinary family pension (EOFP), a minimum of seven years qualifying service is required to have been rendered by the deceased officer.

2. Special Family Pension (SFP). Nominally SFP is given to the widow for death of an officer while in service where the death is attributable to/or aggravated by service. It is paid @ 60% of last reckonable emoluments + DR. However if an invalidated out officer dies within seven years of his invalidation out of service and in the medical opinion his death has been primarily caused by the disability for which he was invalided out of service, then the widow could be eligible for SFP. SFP will not stop after remarriage. However if widow does not support her children it can be divided between the widow and the children.

3. Liberalized Family Pension (LFP). LFP is granted for death which besides being attributable to and aggravated by service should take place in the face of enemy (in war/on border/notified operations), engagement with militants, while trying to maintain law and order amongst unruly crowds, weather extremities during op deployment, fratricide in combat heat, Battle inoculation training exercise, death in Op deployment due to snakebite, poisoning of water by enemy etc. The recommendation for LFP will depend on the circumstances of death as emerging out of Court of inquiry/injury report and subsequent medical opinion on death. It is paid @ 100% of last reckonable emoluments + DR. LFP not stop after remarriage. However if widow does not support her children after remarriage, it will be divided between the widow and the children.

SAINIK BANDHU MEETING MECHANISM

General

1. Armed Forces are the custodian of sovereignty and integrity of the country. All defence personnels get dply all over the country during their service to safe guard their motherland. During their service, the families are more often that not, separated and continue to stay at their village. These families have to face numerous challenges while handing their day to day life. The soldiers, when they learn bout thesechalanges, are under tremendous stress which affects their functioning and performance in their official tasks. They often resort of resolving these issues by personally addressing them to the concerned civ adm however the follow up and resolution is very difficult. At times, these indl apch their Commanding Offr who in turn apch the civ adm for resolution/redressal of the grievance. There is however no structured mythology for progressing such complaints till their logical conclusion.

2. The State of Uttar Pradesh (UP) has a system in place in term of “Jansunvayi”/Integrated Grievances Redressal Sys (IGRS) web portal fort all residents of UP who can register any grievance on which a time based action is taken and a feedback is given to the complaint. There is however no separate portal for serving soldiers. This facility is not utilised much by serving soldiers and their families due to lack of awareness and/or lack of expertise to register on an online platform. Some veterans and their families are utilising this facility for redressal of their grievances.

3. Also, in the State of UP there is a forum called ‘Sainik Bandhu’ in which officers of Distt adm and deputed reps from the nearest Stn HQ sit together to resolve all grievances of soldiers and their families. Due to the vintage of these dirns & lack of awareness about such a forum, the grievances do not reach this body.

4. HQ Central Comd, alongwith the civ Administration of State of UP has got together to address the sys of redressal of grievances of the Soldiers and their families who reside in the state of UP. The System will be for all three Services as well as for veterans, however this SOP is ltd the procedure to be followed by Serving Soldiers of Indian Army.

Aim

5. The aim of the SOP is to laydown the procedure to the followed by all Serving personnel who are residents of UP for redressal of their pers grievances.

Urban Development Section-9

Lucknow: Dated 23 Oct 2003

SUBJECT : REGARDING EXEMPTION FROM HOUSE TAX TO EX-SERVICEMEN

Sir,

Regarding the above mentioned matter, please refer to your letter No 5520/S.P-3 dated 18 Aug 2003. Through which a request has been made to exempt ex-servicemen from house tax.

In this regard, I have directed to say that the government has exempted from house tax only those residential buildings owned by widows of military personnel who have been martyred in the security of the country and in which they themselves are residing. This exemption is being given only under Municipal Corporation. It is not appropriate to provide exemption from house tax/water tax to ex-servicemen of the state keeping in view the financial condition of the state.

Yours Sincerely,

Chef Secretary

UP GOVERNMENT

To:

1. All District Magistrate Uttar Pradesh
2. All Senior Superintendents of Police/ Superintendents of Police, Uttar Pradesh

Soldier Welfare Section: Lucknow, Dated 30 Jun 2016

SUBJECT: REGARDING EFFECTIVE AND TIMELY RESOLUTION OF COMPLAINTS /PROBLEMS OF SOLDIERS AND THEIR FAMILIES

Sir,

1. In relation to the above mentioned subject, please refer to Government Order No 1244/48-2008-96(Misc)/91.TC dated 20 Sep 2008, Government Order No 00CM/48-2015 dated 30 Mar 2015, through which detailed quid lines have been issued for formation of 'Zila Sainik Bandhu' and prompt action for redressal problems of soldiers though Lokwani Yojna.

2. The absence of prompt action by the district officers in the meetings of 'Zila Sainik Bandhu' regarding the difficulties faced by soldiers at their home in various cases, they are unable to solve many domestic problems such as property, land disputes and small problems created by anti-social elements during their short leave. The mental unrest caused by this affects the moral of the soldiers.

3. Zila Sainik Bandhu was formed/Lokwani Yojna was started to solve the problems of ex-servicemen/serving soldiers in a planned and timely manner but its seems that the Problems of the soldiers are not being taken seriously and meetings of Sainik Bandhu are not being held regularly due to which the problems of ex-servicemen and serving soldiers are not being solved on time. This situation is not appropriate in the national interest.

4. In connection with the above, I am once again directed to say that by ensuring strict compliance of the guidelines given in the above mentioned Government Orders, by holding regular meetings of Sainik Bandhu every month, take the trouble of resolving the complaints and problems received and ex-servicemen and their families in a timely manner.
